An initial placement (entry-level salary) schedule differs from a traditional step and lane schedule in that it is only used for a teacher's initial placement. After a teacher is placed, education will dictate annual salary as a percent increase. Additional increases are possible as part of an overall percentage increase set by the district leadership and guided by budget constraints. This system allows for sustainability and the opportunity for teachers to control increases based on education, in addition to possible yearly increases across the ranges (schedule).
